Observations... From Around Town

By the Editor

Brother Alexis has been named president of St. Stanislaus for another term. . . Brother Gerard, former president of St. Aloysius at Vicksburg, has been named vice-president to succeed Brother Linus who goes to Huntington, N. Y. as vice-president—the many friends of Brother Linus regret to see him leave Stanislaus—we are certain he shall be remembered in their prayers, asking God's grace and assistance in his life's work, devoted to the education of Catholic youths, teaching them to honor and love God. . . may his work and that of his co-workers bring greater honor and glory to God, and to his order dedicated to and under the patronage of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. . . the fill on the beach front is really moving along. . . the contractors, T. E. Kellar and sons, have already put in several thousand yards of fill from the bridge to the Echo office, and the equipment has moved to Citizen street and started at that point moving towards the center of town. . . If the weather continues to be good it will only take a short time to complete the job. . . the total costs per yard including engineering and other overhead we understand is only 53 cents per yard. . . it would not hurt the boys at Waveland to get down to earth and quit all this big talk about shooting folks, etc. . . and remember the public does not like such utterances—the proof of the pudding is the eating—the results of the town election which is only about a year off will tell the tale. . . results are what counts—your town is growing. . . continue to build it and quit bickering—we wonder if our city officials go to the post office—it hasn't rained for a week to amount to anything but those holes are still there filled with water—won't you do a little grading and get that spot drained — as we told you last week it will make the ladies who go to the post office and to the Baptist church happy when they will not have to tramp through the mud. . . the program of the year for the Chamber of Commerce was the repair of the Beach road. . . this is fast becoming a reality. . . the results of their efforts in this behalf has inspired some of our leaders, and they see the benefits of cooperation with their elected officials—we have been told that the next move will be to devise ways and means of having a park, pier and sand beach in order to attract visitors to Bay St. Louis. . . keep going boys, it will take a little time perhaps to complete the job, but in time we may say it, too, has become a reality—let's take them on one by one and follow through to a conclusion. . . but there is nothing to stop you in the meantime working another one over in your mind that may still make a bigger and better Hancock County. . . Former Lt.-Governor Billy Snider who is now a resident of Bay St. Louis and a national Democratic committeeman from Mississippi will attend the meeting of the National Democratic Committee in Washington, August 24.

Order Maintained As Mayor, Marshall Dispute "Who Is Law" In Waveland

Pistols bristled and blackjacks bulged Tuesday night at a meeting of Waveland's board of aldermen. Peace and order was maintained simply by the presence of Hancock county Sheriff E. D. Johnson and six deputies.

Factional politics was the cause of the tension, particularly the question of who—the mayor or town marshal—should have the authority to appoint and direct law enforcement personnel within the municipality's government.

ALMOST VIOLENT

At the meeting of August 2, words and tackles flew as the two disputing factions discussed the question. That meeting was adjourned when the situation got out of hand and violence was eminent. Tuesday's meeting, while more orderly, was attended by numerous supporters of both sides and tension rose directly with voices and temper, but no outbreaks occurred.

Cause of the present unstable situation is a dispute of long standing between Mayor Garfield Ladner and Town Marshal C. O. "Buddy" Dufour. Under Waveland's particular charter the town marshal has authority of supervision over all town law enforcement officers. The Mayor or board of aldermen, however, have the authority to appoint special officers and to specifically outline their duties. The marshal then is charged with seeing these duties performed.

MAYOR VS MARSHAL

The most recent breach of the peace between mayor and marshal occurred when special officer Chester Bourgeois whose duties had been specifically outlined, refused to take orders from Dufour, an elective official. Dufour challenged the Mayor's prerogative to have an officer on the town payroll.

To cap it all, at last week's session, Dufour insisted on presenting town payroll.

to the board, still in the midst of discussing routine business, the commission for several deputies he had appointed, and asked that the names be read. Mayor Ladner insisted that Dufour remain silent until after the routine business was finished and even threatened to have Special Officer Bourgeois expelled Town Marshal Dufour if the interruption continued. Dufour left the chamber to return in a few minutes with sidearms.

INSISTANCE AND RESISTANCE

More disturbances ensued with the introduction of a petition to raise taxes to enable the town to make certain road repairs. Wallace Bourgeois, an observer attending the meeting, insisted on being heard, caused a disturbance in the opinion of Mayor Ladner, and was ordered out. As he was being ejected by the special officer, Edward Phillips, another observer and supporter of Dufour, grabbed the officer. On this note, the aldermen adjourned the meeting in the interest of the preservation of law and order.

During the week members of both factions grumbled and threatened. As Sheriff Johnson put it Tuesday: "They told me there was liable to be some killing going on here tonight, and I'm here with what it takes to keep it from happening."

TO COURT

Tuesday night's supporters of both sides milled around outside, the council discussed the issue in discord. Opinions from the attorney general were read to make clear the decision of duties between the council and marshal concerning law enforcement. Dufour insists that he will take the case to court "to find out just what the Attorney General means."

The town administration itself is split with regards to this issue. The majority of the aldermen support Ladner while Councilman John A. Garza backs Dufour.

BEACH ROAD REPAIRS PROGRESSING SATISFACTORILY

Road Bed Widened, Plan To Prevent Washing

Repairs on the Beach road are progressing rapidly and satisfactorily, according to J. R. Rollins, county engineer.

Some 3,200 cubic yards of dirt fill have been moved into the area between Carroll avenue and State street where work was begun. Here the road bed was increased to a 35-foot width. The work is being done by T. E. Kellar and Sons.

Plans include lessening the grade of the slope and sodding it in order to prevent washing.

Tuesday the crew moved to a new work site beginning at Citizen street and going north. In this area as in the Carroll avenue district, plans are being made to prevent the dirt fill from being washed out. In places where the seawall is broken the fill will be rip-rapped, that is covered with broken cement slabs.

County equipment and four of Kellar's trucks are being used in the hauling. As many as 11 trucks are hauling at one time, and when working with full force over 1000 yards per day can be moved to the repair sites.

WORK INTERRUPTED BY COLLISION

Work Tuesday on the Beach road was interrupted slightly when one of the Kellar trucks, driven by T. E. Kellar, Jr., collided with an automobile at the corner of Washington and Hancock streets.

The car was driven by a young man named Edell from New Orleans. Damages included a broken headlight and a bumper torn off the truck, about $100 damages on Edell's auto, and minor damages to the car owned by Joseph Richardson who had parked near the intersection and was rammed by Edell's car.

Brought before Judge M. D. (Pat) Rutherford the parties involved were dismissed with no trial when Edell admitted being at fault, pointing out that he did not know which street had the right of way. Edell will finance repairs, Judge Rutherford said.

Anti-Insect Campaign Nears Completion, Need More Contributions

The Chamber of Commerce campaign for funds to finance the fight against insects is about complete, O. W. Delph, chairman of the spray campaign committee, said today.

The city has been sprayed three times and there are still seven spray to be accomplished. These last seven will be fifteen days apart and will take the program through September.

There are still some contributions to be collected before the campaign is concluded, Mr. Delph said. Those who have contributed to the fund during the past week are: Mrs. L. Crasto, $5; Dr. John L. Griffin, $5; Monti-Carver plumbers, $5; and Jules E. Harris, $10.

Contributions should be sent to W. Delph, Box 88, Bay St. Louis. Make checks payable to the "Chamber of Commerce Insect Spray Program."

City Operates Within Income, Commissioners Say

Band To Provide More Hot Licks Saturday Night

The Bay St. Louis Community band netted $60 profit on its dance at the Bay High gym last Saturday night. The money will make up part of a fund to be used to finance an outing for members of the organization who faithfully attended rehearsals and concerts.

Another dance is scheduled for Saturday, August 13, also at the Bay High gym, and proceeds will be put into the same fund.

The dance orchestra which played at last Saturday's function and, incidentally, gave a good performance, will again be on hand to provide the hot licks.

Included in last week's repertoire was a little bit of everything from boogie to Basin Street with a dash of the sweet and low, and there is absolutely no reason why a similar portion shouldn't be served up this week.

The band will present its last regular Sunday evening program August 14, on the lawn of the City Hall. The program includes a variety of musical offerings featuring the various ensembles within the Community band. The hour concert will begin at 5 p. m.

LIBRARY TAG DAY SET

Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library is launching its annual tag day, August 20 for its book fund.

The goal has been set at $500, which in the face of the increased price of books is not an exorbitant amount.

Rally to the cause and support your library. Leave your donation at the library or give it to the girls who will be on the streets, Saturday, August 20, all day.

S. J. A. TO REGISTER

St. Joseph Academy will hold registration for day scholars, Thursday, August 25 and Friday, August 26 from 9 to 11 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.

All boarders will return Tuesday, September 6, and classes will start Wednesday morning, September 7 for every one. Mother Marie Blanche announced.

HEY GANG!

The Teen-Age club will reopen Wednesday evening for the first time since mid July. Joe Burrows, director, said today. The club will follow its regular routine for these gatherings. All teen-agers are urged to attend.

Trouts for "Rebecca" will be held at the Episcopal Parish House on the corner of Beach and Carroll Ave., Monday, August 15 at 8 p. m.

The City of Bay St. Louis is "getting by on its income, as meager as it is, and has not borrowed one five cents from the banks or any other source, J. Cyril Glover, commissioner of finance, said Thursday.

In an interview yesterday Glover and Public Utilities Commissioner Sylvan Ladner, Jr., said, "while we are not able to accomplish anything in the way of major improvements or to follow up major maintenance work, we are continuing to operate within the income of the city."

"The problems of finance, we feel, will be considerably eased October 1," they asserted, "when a new fiscal year begins and at which time we will begin to collect ad valorem taxes for the coming year."

Meanwhile, the city commissioners with the cooperation of the people are beginning to make headway through the city's bogged down financial situation.

Water bills, for instance, were due as of July 1. "The people have responded in an excellent manner," Commissioner Glover said, "realizing that the financial condition of the city as a whole and of the water works system requires cooperation if the city is to pull through this financial crisis."

In addition, Commissioner Glover added, the people are responding in the payment of ad valorem taxes, privilege taxes and licenses, which revenue is being utilized to keep the city operating and to pay salaries.

Even though the city has had to shift some money from one fund to another, the commissioner pointed out, it has not had to borrow any in order to pay the salaries of the city school teachers. This is the first time in a number of years that such a situation has existed.

Furthermore, last year when the city had borrowed the maximum amount from the banks, city employees were sent directly to the bank to get their pay. Now, the commissioners stated, all salaries of city employees are paid out of city funds by city warrants.

STANISLAUS TO OPEN WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7

St. Stanislaus college will resume classes for the 1949-50 school year, Wednesday, September 7, Brother Alexis, president, announced.

The employment for the year will be Brother Gerard, seniors; Brother Gerak, juniors; Brother Athanasius, juniors; Brother Dacien, Sophomores; Brother Elbert, Sophomores; Brother Canisius, freshmen; Brother Leonard, freshmen; eighth grade; Brother Roman, eighth grade; Brother Dean, sixth grade; Brother Rian, fifth grade; Brother Arthur, fourth grade; Brother Dermot, senior prefect; Brother Leo, junior prefect; Brother Ephrem.

There will be a meeting of the charter members of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Friday night at 8 o'clock. The group will meet at the Little Theater play house on Boardman avenue. All charter members are urged to attend.

County Supervisors Ask Kiln-Picayune Highway Be Transferred To State

The Hancock county board of supervisors will join the Pearl River county board in requesting the state road commission to take over, for maintenance, the road between Kiln and Picayune. The road runs deep into both counties.

An investigation of the road condition was made by both boards and they authorized A. E. Nestler, secretary of the Picayune Chamber of Commerce, to write the road commission for instruction on how to get the highway in condition and up to the specifications required by the commission.

Preliminary investigations by county officials indicated that the road in both counties is in good shape, including proper casements, and can easily be made ready for the transfer to the state.

The Kiln-Picayune road is a major link in the state transportation system, and if taken over will make a direct route the Coast to Jackson. It also serves as a farm-to-market highway for the densely populated rural areas of both counties.

It will also make a splendid connecting link for the Picayune-Bogalusa highway which has been given first priority for paving by Pearl River county.

POLIO HAS NO CRIPPLING EFFECTS ON 50 % OF VICTIMS, SAYS SHIPP

Fifty percent of all persons stricken with infantile paralysis recover completely with no crippling effects, Dr. Clarence Shipp, county health officer, told members of the Rotary club at their regular weekly luncheon at the Reed Hotel Wednesday.

HANCOCK HAS FEW

At present there are 163 cases of polio in Mississippi and that number is increasing at the average rate of three to four cases per day. The northern section of the state was hardest hit with a majority of the cases concentrated in Hines, Lee, Monroe, Union and Washington counties. Hancock county still has reported only two cases. In the United States, the doctor asserted, there is a yearly average of 19,000 persons who fall victim to infantile paralysis. There is no known cure for the disease, indeed, the virus responsible for the illness can be isolated only with the greatest of difficulty.

NOT ALL BAD

All the news concerning polio is not bad, however, the doctor assured the Rotarians. "To date there are 72 research laboratories investigating the causes and seeking cures for this dread disease. Auromycin and streptomycin, two drugs obtained from mold and yeast, seem to offer relief and their effectiveness is being studied.

Research into the causes and cures of polio is progressing slowly, Dr. Shipp said because the virus which causes the disease gets into the very body of the nerve cell, unlike ordinary bacteria which live in the body juices. The virus so attaches itself to the proteins in the cell that separation is extremely difficult. This organism always attacks the nerve cells of the motor tract, producing paralysis. And even though brain cells may be infected by certain bulbar types of polio, insanity never results nor is any mental disorder produced.

Some success has been had in separating the virus from the nerve cell by lowering the temperature to freeze out the protein, Dr. Shipp stated.

Meanwhile the fight against polio continues unabated. Every facility is available here to rush cases to the infantile paralysis clinic in Vicksburg on an hour's notice. There the patients will be treated by specialists using the latest equipment and techniques.

Father Desmond Confers Blessing On Shrimp Fleet

This was the second annual blessing of the shrimp fleet. The idea was put into effect here through the efforts of Charles Benigno who served as master of ceremonies and made the general arrangements for this year's blessing.

Following the administration of the blessing Father Desmond delivered a short address in which he explained the significance of the ceremony and wished the fishermen continued success in their labors.

Eight shrimp boats of varying sizes were blessed Friday afternoon by the Rev. Father Edward Desmond in preparation for the opening of the shrimp season. The service was held at the mouth of Jordan River near Cedar Point.

The ceremony opened with the regular blessing in which the Church asks God for preservation from spiritual as well as material danger and for the success of those who work

THE WEAKEST LINK

Highway 90 is classed by the Federal Bureau of Roads as one of the most important in the country.

It is the life line of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It is one of the most important roads into or out of New Orleans, the biggest trade center and port of the South.

The weakest link of this highway is the bridge across the Bay of St. Louis which has reached the stage that it is dangerous for the use of the traveling public. This condition has existed for some time, and the fire of two weeks ago has added to it.

At a meeting of the State Highway commission held recently on the Coast, not one word was mentioned of any efforts being made to repair or rebuild the Bay St. Louis bridge. The only utterance was of the amount of money that had been spent to repair the Harrison county side following the fire of last year, and this was brought out for the purpose of showing why funds are not available for other works.

Who is responsible for the upkeep, maintenance, and safety of this structure?—The Mississippi State Highway department. Is it their responsibility to advance practical and necessary plans for its upkeep, maintenance and safety? If so, plans should have been formulated long ago for the financing and building of a permanent concrete structure.

In discussing the matter with our Highway Commissioner John R. Smith on previous occasions, we were told that an appropriation would have to be made by the Mississippi legislature and by the federal bureau of roads for this project. Who should ask for these appropriations? Will it be necessary for individuals to go before the legislative bodies and appeal for money to build this bridge which is such an important factor in our state and federal road system, or will John Smith and the other members of the State Highway commission do what they should and ask the legislature to provide sufficient funds for the building of a permanent structure of concrete.

The monies of Hancock and Harrison counties, in cooperation with federal aid, originally built this bridge. Other than maintenance, the State Highway department has expended only the amounts to repair the damages caused by the hurricane of 1947 and the fire of 1948.

The quick action of the Merchant Marine School Cadets manning a fire boat, together with the department's fire boat, saved the bridge when it was struck by lightning and set afire. If this had not happened the Mississippi Coast today would be isolated from the west.

It is high time we on the coast should receive some recognition from the State Highway commission. Highway 90 was originally built by Jackson, Harrison and Hancock counties. No state money was spent on the original construction. Can the same be said of highways 11, 51, 80, 49 and the other major federal highways in the State?

Brother John, you and your fellow commissioners should give a little thought to rebuilding this bridge. It is your job to urge legislation needed to secure necessary funds. Will you hurry along and do this at the special session of legislation to be called by the governor, and quit using it as an argument to get an increase in gasoline tax. Action may avoid a great tragedy costing the lives of many people, and, certainly, you do not want to have this on your conscience.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE

One would gather from the news and rumors emanating from our progressive little city of Waveland, that a political feud is about to break into open warfare. Pictures of the sheriff being called in to maintain peace at the meeting of its city council, with news items of the presence of many deputies and the rumors that a shooting spree would be had, is not good publicity for a town that has made as many advances as Waveland has in the last few years. Frankly, it stands heads and shoulders in progress above any other section of the Coast in proportion to its population.

The political differences that may exist between individuals should not reach such heights as they have at Waveland. Men elected to public office should be big enough to sit across a council table and discuss the business affairs of their town without resorting to such tactics.

We shall not attempt to say who is right in the argument which we understand is over the police powers of the town. This is of no consequence. The law and town charter governs this question. Indeed, Waveland could easily do without a police officer or town marshal, and we think the records will bear us out, and certainly this office should not be a disrupting influence.

A two-party or two-faction political system tends to good government and usually keeps both sides on their toes and redounds to the benefit and upbuilding of a community. However, sound judgment should be exercised by the leadership of political factions so it does not become destructive.

Loud mouthing, bragadocio statements, threats and bulldozing does not constitute good leadership. Sound leadership is exemplified by actions and not mere words.

May we suggest that the officials of Waveland weigh their differences, work in harmony for the further progress of their town and then prepare themselves for the fight, which they always have at election time, and let the people decide who has served best.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR:

There has been a discussion concerning the closing of the skating rink which is located on Court street across from the back of the Court House. The basic reason as far as I can understand is because it is disturbing the residents in that locality. Everything that is done for the teen-agers is always questioned and criticized for selfish reasons. I believe as most people do, that juvenile delinquency is caused by the lack of interesting things for the teen-agers to do. What is wrong with this clean wholesome fun? If they were drinking intoxicants, or were in bad environments, I would certainly agree that it would be wrong to have this rink for the young people.

Come on, citizens, let's keep juvenile delinquency from getting a start by working and keeping the teen-agers interested in clean enjoyable fun.

OLD TIME TREAT

An old-fashioned treat which many families enjoy in the good old summertime is ice cream frozen in a dasher-freezer. Though most of the millions of gallons of ice cream which Americans now eat each year is commercially made, dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture still receive many requests for recipes and directions for old-time, ice cream.

Here are tips on making:

First, scald and air the freezer-can to be sure it has no stale odor or flavor.

It is not necessary to cook a mixture of cream, milk, sugar, fruit juice, crushed fruit or other flavoring before freezing. But for the best flavor and texture the mix should be thoroughly chilled in the refrigerator for a few hours or overnight before freezing.

Never fill the freezer-can more than two thirds full because air, whipped in during freezing, expands the mixture and space must be left for it.

Crush ice by placing in a strong canvas bag and pounding with a mallet until pieces are fine and even. Use about 6 pounds of crushed ice to one pound of rock salt or table salt. To start the ice melting and thus hasten the freezing, add one pint of cold water to the ice and salt. The dairy specialists explain that as the ice melts, heat is drawn out of the cream mixture, causing it to freeze. Pack the ice and salt mixture firmly around the can.

Turn the freezer crank slowly at first to prevent churning the cream before it starts to freeze. As the crank turns harder, turn it faster in order to whip it as much air as possible during the freezing and thus make a smoother product.

About 15 or 20 minutes of turning the crank is all that should be necessary to freeze the contents of a 2-quart freezer. When the ice cream is frozen, wipe the top of the can and open carefully so that no trace of salt gets in. Remove the dasher, scrape the mixture down from the sides of the can. Plug the hole in the cover with a cork, and replace the cover on the can, then drain off water from the outer part of the freezer and pack with more ice and salt. For this packing use about one part salt to 8 parts of crushed ice by weights and pack around and over the can. Place a heavy piece of cloth or several thicknesses of newspaper over the top of the freezer for insulation and let the ice cream stand at least two hours before serving for best texture and flavor.

For a rich vanilla ice cream, the dairy specialists give the following recipe for a 2-quart freezer: enough for 7 to 10 servings: Ingredients: 4 cups whipping cream; 1 cup whole milk; 1 cup sugar; 2 teaspoons vanilla; 1/4 teaspoon salt. To make: Simply mix, chill and freeze.

HOUSING THE LAYING FLOCK

If preparations have not been made for moving pullets to the laying house, this should be done without delay. Such preparations are necessary now if we expect the birds to lay at their best this fall and winter.

First, make any necessary repairs to the building and equipment. Thoroughly scrub and disinfect the house and equipment. After the building is thoroughly dry, add eight to ten inches of good litter to the floor. Wood shavings make an excellent litter.

For each 100 pullets placed in the laying house, several things should be provided, as listed below:

Have one, six or seven gallons water container, or better an automatic water container. There should be one foot of feeding space for grit and two to four feet of feeding spaces for oyster shells.

Two feeders of the five-foot type, open on both sides are needed per 100 pullets. This is the equivalent of one foot feeding space for each five hens.

The 100 pullets also need 75 feet of roost poles. This is eight to nine inches space per bird. Perches should be 13 to 15 inches apart and twenty nests are enough.

If possible, provide lights, with reflectors, in the laying house. They should be 10 feet from sides and ends of houses and 10 feet apart. A 30 by 30 foot house would require four lights, using 40 watt bulbs. An automatic time clock is desirable to turn lights on and off.

Lights in the house are used to lengthen the feeding to 13 or 14 hours per day.

Select the best pullets for the laying house and market those which do not show indications of becoming good producers.

Pullets housed when they are about 15 to 20 percent production will have to be given rigid culling later to weed out the non-producers.

All pullet flocks are recommended. If both pullets and old hens are to be housed this year for fall and winter production, it is a good practice to house them in separate quarters if possible. Diseases from the old birds may be transmitted to the young ones.

HAY AND SILAGE
Dairymen are now saving hay, silage or both for use during the next 12 months.

With many hay crops, the second crop is ready to save, if this has not already been done. The condition in which it is saved will be reflected in profits from the herd.

Hay that is cut before it is over mature, and is stored with a large portion of the leaves retained and of a bright green color is worth two or three times as much as feed for producing dairy cows as is inferior hay. Poor quality hay is often that which was cut over mature and withered until most of the leaves have shattered and is badly discolored.

Cows will not eat enough of the poor quality hay to meet their needs.

Silage offers advantages to the dairy enterprise. Much more of the total nutrients, as well as the carotene-Vitamin A content of a crop, is saved to be digested and assimilated by the cow when stored as silage rather than as hay or in a dry form.

With silage, there is far less waste, cows will eat more, they will stay in a more thrifty condition and give more returns for the feeds consumed, all adding up to a greater profit.

—Claude Hooton of Houston, Texas, is a guest here of Melvin Dennis who is vacationing at the Carroll ave. home of his mother Mrs. Ed. Bernhard and Mr. Bernhard. The latter is still quite ill in New Orleans.

—The many friends of Mrs. J. R. Scharff regret that she is still confined to her bed under the care of a physician. It is hoped that she will soon be well again.

The News of the Little Theatre

"Life With Father," the coming attraction of the Little Theatre, will be the first all-costume play to be presented by this group. It will bring many new-comers to the stage, and we are sure that it will prove to be one of the outstanding plays of the season. The setting of the play is the drawing room of a wealthy New York family of the late 1890 period. Quite Victorian in every detail, the costumes for the play are all authentic, being shipped down from New York. Another interesting note is the fact that all of the family are flaming red heads, so that you will be greatly surprised to see some of your acquaintances flaunting gleaming stresses for this production.

The production of this play is in the hands of Mrs. Emily Marie Rausch. Mrs. Rausch is a native of Perkinston, Miss. She was graduated in dramatic work from the University of Iowa. A talented director. She has knack for comedy which is certain to make this play a sure fire success with the Bay St. Louis audience.

The stage settings and art work are under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Blair, whose ability is well known in the theatrical circle.

The cast includes, Mr. H. A. Thompson, Mrs. Donald McColloch, Mr. Henry Chapman, Dr. and Mrs. H. Keefe, Mrs. F. J. Trastour, Jr., Mr. Jaubert Pucich, Hope Crasto, Mrs. Richard Shadoin, Sylvia Geb-

FIRE RAZES KITCHEN OF NO. BEACH HOME

Fire of unknown source was discovered Sunday morning in the kitchen of the McConnell home at 708 South Beach, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Languiand.

Mrs. Languiand said she discovered the fire in the kitchen stairs shortly before noon and immediately telephoned the fire department. She also called several neighbors who brought hoses and soon began dousing the flames. The fire department lost no time in getting there she said and did splendid work.

The fire confined itself to the kitchen but did damage of approximately $1,000 to the Languiands' refrigerator, washing machine and dishwashing machines, kitchen cabinets and other smaller things.

Damage to the building is estimated at $700. The floor linoleum, gas stove and some fixtures were burned, but the greater damages, it is said, was done the ceiling and walls which are said to be beyond repair. Mr. and Mrs. Languiand are now occupying the Horton cottage on North Beach.

bia, Harry Chapman, Tommy Schaeffer, Jerry Kiefer, Ann Chapman and Leigh Carroll, Jeanette Bontemps. The play is scheduled for the nights of August 17, 18, 19, and 20. We are sure that this production will draw large crowds, so plan to come early. An advance sale of 100 tickets will be sent into New Orleans for out-of-town guests. Tickets for the local audience will be sold at the door of the theatre and members will of course, use their membership cards.

—An article was brought in to me that was of local interest and though it did not occur in the year 1901 I am taking the liberty of reprinting it at this time:

From the Daily Picayune, New Orleans, February 13th, 1890:

"The Picayune's correspondent at Bay St. Louis, Miss., writes as follows: On the 13th instant when the warm and perfumed breath of the southern breezes were stealing through leaf and flower and the birds singing their happy songs, Mr. Emile Cue and Miss Ellen J. Favre were made as one. This eventful marriage took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Favre, at the Kiln on Jordan River, near Bay St. Louis. The ceremony was said by Rev. Father Alphonse in a beautiful and impressive manner. The attendants were: Miss Carrie Favre, the bride's sister, and Mr. Forest Favre, a cousin of the bride; Miss Finlay of New Orleans and Mr. Charles Favre, Miss Rose Lux of Bay St. Louis and Mr. Thomas Favre. The bride never looked lovelier than on this eventful occasion, attired in rich white silk lace and orange blossoms. The pretty young bridesmaids were handsomely dressed in white nun's veiling, with rich lace and flowers. The floral decorations were quite pretty, and together with lights, evergreens and flowers, the charming home of the Favres presented a picture akin to fairyland. After the ceremony refreshments were served and the health of the newly wedded couple by all present. Mr. Cue is a prosperous millman and merchant, and one of the most popular gentlemen on Jordan River. Miss Favre was a great favorite of her neighborhood, sweet and amiable in disposition. Mr. and Mrs. Cue left immediately for New Orleans."

Treatments For VD Now Without Danger Or Pain

(This is the third in a series of articles prepared by the Mississippi state board of health in cooperation with the National campaign against venereal diseases.)

The long tedious treatments for syphilis are a thing of the past. The discovery of new drugs has reduced the number of days that patients have to report for treatment, and has removed most of the discomfort and all of the danger of the treatment itself.

The six-day treatment for syphilis today has proved very effective and is very simple to administer. With this effective and quick cure for this disease, it would not be long before syphilis could be brought under control if infected persons were brought to treatment. A blood test alone is not sufficient to diagnose syphilis. Accurately diagnosed cases of syphilis require a thorough physical examination.

Syphilis is one of the major public health problems in Mississippi. The State board of health estimates that a 45% reduction in the incidence of syphilis in Mississippi has occurred within the past six years. This is due only to intensive programs conducted against syphilis, cooperation of the private physicians, and the spread of public information and education concerning the venereal diseases. A true percentage of the infection in any given race is difficult to determine.

A person found infected with syphilis may report to his private physician or to the county health department for treatment of the disease. Private physicians as well as the public health treatment centers use penicillin extensively and in many instances it is the only treatment necessary to cure syphilis. By and large, penicillin is today the treatment of choice.

A full scale attack on these diseases can be launched today because the "cold war" of silence which once prevented open discussion of this problem has been lifted. Churches and schools, are joining with the newspapers, the radio, and various groups throughout Mississippi in an attempt to make the facts known about syphilis to the public in general. You cannot fight something about which you know nothing. The schools have been a valuable avenue for distribution of educational pamphlets, etc., to the home of the state.

A new health film has been made in Mississippi with a cast of Mississippi folks to explain the dangers of syphilis. This film tells in an interesting manner the story of a Delta Negro family, confronted with the problem of syphilis. This film has been widely distributed and has been viewed by over 150,000 Mississippians for the past few weeks.

For further information about the venereal disease control program, call your local health department.

(Be sure to read the next article in this series dealing with gonorrhea and the other three venereal diseases.)

4-H Safety Workers in All-Out Attempt to Reduce Accidents on Farms in 1949

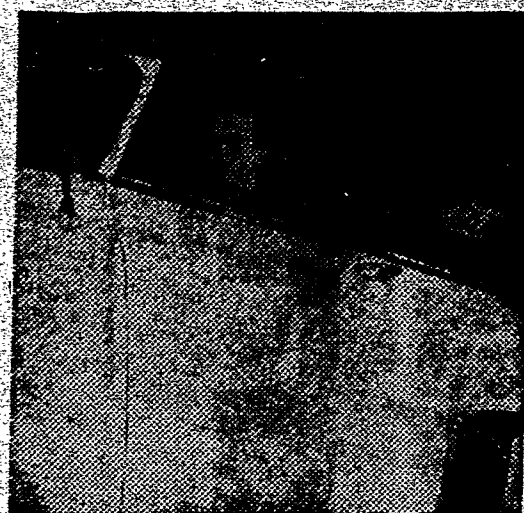

MR. FARMER, has the 4-H Club member in your family checked your farm and home for accident and fire hazards lately? If not, you can expect him to do so any day now. 4-H'ers are making an all-out attempt to reduce the annual cost of accidents affecting farm folks—including motor vehicle, fire and property damage—which totals more than one billion dollars, or about $35.00 per person! They are also trying to cut down the number of accidental deaths, which kill 51 farm residents in the U. S. every day in the year.

Your 4-H'er doubtless will caution you to drive carefully on highways, and use proper signals when turning or stopping (top right). More than 7,300 rural people are killed annually in motor vehicle accidents. In fact, more fatal automobile accidents occur in rural areas than in any other location.

Falls rank second in farm accident causes. So watch your step when carrying a clothes basket, like the girl shown in right photo. Your 4-H safety worker probably will suggest you tack down throw rugs or put them on non-slip matting, and keep stairways uncluttered.

Are your lightning rods properly grounded? The 4-H'ers shown at top left found the ground wires broken, and therefore worthless. Lightning, which is one of the greatest causes of farm fires, each year destroys 20 million dollars worth of farm property, kills 500 farm residents and injures 1,300 others.

... achievements in safety work, the 4-H boy or girl may receive a prized sterling silver medal of honor as county winner. General Motors also provides an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, next November, for the state winner, and $300.00 college scholarships for each of the eight national champions. By practicing safety from this time on, you'll not only help your 4-H'er in his safety work, but help save a life—which may be your own.

The National 4-H Farm Safety program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

University Plans New Talk Clinic Under Direction Of Dr. J. C. Kelly

University, Miss., Aug. 12—A speech clinic for the correction of speech disorders will be established at the University of Mississippi this fall under the direction of Dr. James C. Kelly, who will join the faculty at that time.

To be open to all university students, the new clinic will be operated by the department of speech and "will set up testing programs beginning in Lafayette county and working into the state," according to Dr. Charles Munro Getchell, department chairman. "It will receive children and adults for examination, testing, diagnosis and therapeutic treatment," he added.

Dr. Kelly, who will be associate professor of speech, will develop courses in the correction of speech disorders, in audiology, in phonetics, both experimental and applied in voice science, in addition to his work with the clinic.

He comes to Mississippi from Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., where he was in charge of foreign dialect cases in a speech clinic and did research for the Navy on voice communications, in addition to his teaching duties. During the war as a Navy lieutenant he was in charge of speech intelligibility training at naval bases at Pensacola, Fla. and Corpus Christi, Texas.

Previously, he taught speech at Indiana State Teachers college and Germeyer Technical High school, both at Terre Haute, and at Mom-mouth, Ill., High School. He holds a bachelor of arts degree, 1931, from Indiana State; M. A. 1935, Northwestern university, and Ph. D., 1948, Purdue.

Dr. Kelly is a professional member of the American Speech Correction association, and is affiliated with the Speech Association of America and Tau Kappa Alpha and Alpha Sigma Phi, debating fraternities. Referring to the clinic, Dr. Getchell said, "We shall work toward the institution of a travelling speech clinic that will work with parents and teachers throughout the state in setting up remedial programs for children with speech and hearing defects."

He reported that an incomplete survey had shown 97 children between the ages of 7 and 12 in Lafayette county (site of Ole Miss) alone "who urgently need help in speech therapy."

"We expect to do all preliminary testing with the help of the school of medicine and the department of psychology though as yet all plans have not been worked out," he added.

CIVIL RIGHTS AGAIN

That President Truman's Administration really means to carry out its political promise made the Negroes, the C. I. O. and the Radical minority groups in this country in last Fall's campaign to enact a Civil Rights program became more evident this week. The House Labor Committee reported out a bill sponsored by Harlem's Negro (preacher) Representative in Congress, Adam Powell, providing for the F. E. P. C. The bill now rests in the Rules Committee from which the administration is trying to wrest it for clearance to the House floor. This committee is made up of eight Democrats and four Republicans. That the bill will have hard sledding in that Committee is a foregone conclusion.

This same F. E. P. C. bill was killed by the Rules Committee in the 78th and 79th Congresses, and was prevented from reaching the floor. However, it will be recalled that, at the beginning of this session of the Congress, the House Leadership succeeded in amending the rules of the House so that the chairman of the committee reporting a bill could be recognized by the Speaker to call up the bill, after the Rules Committee had refused to act favorably on it for a period of 21 days. Therefore, it is likely that the bill will reach the floor at this Session of the Congress under the new rules permitting the Rules Committee to be by-passed.

In view of the fact that this proposed legislation is highly objectionable to Northern industrialists as well as Southerners generally, there is some hope that a coalition of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans may succeed in defeating the bill upon the floor in spite of the political power of the Society for the Advancement of Colored People, the C. I. O. and the left-wing element of the country generally.

Of all the so-called socialist legislation that has been proposed by this Administration, nothing has been proposed which would go further toward regimenting our people than this bill if it should be enacted into law. Every little employer of labor, from the corner drug store to General Motors, would constantly be subjected to the snooping of thousands of Federal agents in an effort to determine whether he was discriminating against some racial minority. And, we would have something in this country approaching Hitler's Gestapo and Stalin's Secret Police. It's this phase of the matter that is objected to by the more conservative people of the North, and therein lies the hope of its defeat. As a member of the Rules Committee in the House, set up last year to "fight this program to the finish," we have some busy days ahead.

Highway Safety Conference Called State College By Governor For Early October Plans Welcome

Governor Fielding Wright has called a state-wide highway safety conference for the first week in October for the purpose of considering plans and recommendations for a traffic safety program and for "furthering the combined efforts of officials and the people toward reducing accidents, injuries and deaths."

In announcing the conference plans the governor said: "The number of deaths on our highways is alarming and while 1948 fatalities were slightly lower than 1947, there were still more than 400 deaths on Mississippi highways last year."

"Eight committees are being organized to make preliminary studies in different phases of traffic matters," Mr. Wright continued.

These committees will consider the following: traffic legislation, driver licensing, accident records, traffic enforcement, school traffic safety education, public information, and public support organization.

Each committee has a vice-chairman from the state department most nearly concerned with its field of study, and from five to ten members, except the public support group which is much larger, the governor said. Committee members are being selected from the ranks of organization officers and public officials who by virtue of their positions are concerned with the various phases of a traffic safety program.

"Other states have had fine success with safety programs," Gov. Wright stated. For instance, Massachusetts has had a safety program for several years and the death rate in that state in 1948 was 3.8 persons per one hundred million vehicle miles traveled as compared with 8.9 persons per one hundred million miles traveled in Mississippi.

"If, through this program, we can save only one life, the efforts expended will be worthwhile. However, if a comparative program is developed and enthusiastically followed, I believe that many accidents can be prevented, with a great saving lives, reduction in injuries and decrease in property losses."

"On behalf of all those who are striving to make this worthwhile endeavor a success, I invite the support and cooperation of all the people of Mississippi."

Migratory Fowl Hunting Seasons Are Announced

Announcement of federal regulations governing hunting of migratory waterfowl and game birds for the 1949-1950 season was made by Secretary of the Interior Krug late last week. Very few specific changes from the seasons set in 1948-49 were made. On the Mississippi Flyway duck and goose hunters were given 10 more days than previously and the bag limit remains the same, 4 per day, including not more than one wood duck; possession limit is 8. Last year the season in Mississippi on ducks and geese was December 10 to January 8, while this year it is from November 18 to December 27.

Bag limit on coot was reduced from 15 per day in '48-'49 season to 10 this year. Possession limit of 10 is the same.

Shooting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset except on opening day when shooting begins at noon.

Season on mourning doves for Mississippi is again divided into split seasons.

4TH DEGREE KNIGHTS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Installation of officers for 1949-50 in the Brother Peter's General Assembly of fourth degree Knights of Columbus was held at the July 27 meeting.

Those who took office were E. J. Arceneaux, Sr., Faithful Navigator; Henry C. Lang, Faithful Captain; W. J. Adams, Faithful Admiral; Joseph Tripp, Faithful Pilot; Wilmer Thibaux, Faithful Controllor; J. M. Stevens, Faithful Inner Sentinel; A. G. Combe, Faithful Outer Sentinel; Rev. Edward P. Desmond, Faithful Friar.

The first from September 16 to September 30 and the second from January 1 to January 15, 1950. The daily bag limit and the possession limit remains at 10 each in the previous season.

Specific attention has been called to the regulation against luring, enticing (baiting). Shooting hours for hunting mourning doves in Mississippi are from 12 noon until sunset each day of the open season.

Previous statements erroneously published in some papers in the state, claim that the daily bag limit is 11 doves per day. This is a typographical error. The daily and the possession limit is 10 doves.

Mississippi Receives $2,239,594 Allocation For School Lunches

An allocation of $2,239,594 was made last week by the federal government for the Mississippi school lunch program for the fiscal year July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1950.

These funds, allocated to the states and territories, will be used to repay schools participating in the program for part of the food purchased locally.

Allocation of the funds is determined by the number of school-age children, per capita income of the state. States in which the per capita income reaches or exceeds the average per capita income for the United States must match federal appropriations with an equal amount. In Mississippi, however, where the per capita income is well below the national average, the state is required to provide much less of the total fund used in the project.

The fund is divided into allocations to states and territories for local purchase of food products; part is set aside for administrative expenses; and another portion goes to the agriculture department for purchase and distribution of specific foods to participating schools.

This portion of the fund is spent on such diet essential food as nonfat dry milk solids, concentrated orange juice, cheese, tomato products, and peanut butter. This year over $17,000,000 has been earmarked for purchase of these types of food products.

A quota of 270,000 long leaf slash pine seedlings has been allotted to Hancock County by the state forestry service, according to T. V. Marlar, forest ranger for this district.

Any farmer interested in starting a stand of these types of trees may get as many as 5,000 seedlings free of charge from the forestry service. Each farmer applying for this offer must take a minimum of 1,000 seedlings.

Those who desire more than 5,000 seedlings may obtain them through the state forestry service at a cost of $3 per thousand. There is a transportation charge on all orders of 35 cents per thousand, the ranger said.

Money for these transactions must be paid at the time application is made. These arrangements may be made with information received from J. L. Bishop, soil conservationist; Howard Simmons, county agent; or T. V. Marlar, area forest ranger.

Mr. Marlar advises all interested farmers to avoid the last minute rush by making application now. The deadline is November 15. No applications will be accepted after that date under any circumstances.

Good Citizens Of Waveland

I wish to call your attention to the fact that at last Tuesday's meeting of the Town Council, Alderman Manny Hubbard, tried to explain the petition signed by the law required 20% of the legal and qualified voters of this town with reference to the $24,000.00 bond issue for certain street paving, and attempted to show that this petition was gotten up and signed by the political enemies of the administration, and to block the progress of the town, it was very plain to all present that this was not the truth when the heading of the petition was read, showing that the petition only called for an election by the people on the most important matter, in such a large amount of money, rather than to have this large bond issue put on the people by the town council without the consent of the people. In this Alderman Hubbard flatly failed, and the people present were amazed at his weak explanation. All any good citizen wants is a voice in his city's government, and on this he will insist. I would like to ask Alderman Hubbard why he does not recognize the will of the people as expressed in this petition and call this election, rather than try to influence the Board of Aldermen, and the Public that he is the brain-power of the Waveland government, instead of recognizing the voice of the people.

I again ask Mr. Hubbard to call this election as requested by the people in the petition.

(Signed)

K. T. BRELAND.

Army Reserve Unit To Receive First Quarterly Pay This Month

The U. S. Army reserve amphibious unit in Bay St. Louis will receive its first regular scheduled quarterly pay August 15, Capt. Don McColloch, commander of the unit, said, Tuesday.

The local group, whose official name is Company B, 302nd Amphibious tractor battalion, includes 52 men and officers and was organized late in March. Pay varies among the members from a high of about $12 per drill for the top ranking officers to $2.75 per drill for a private. When the unit reaches its full complement, which is 202 men and officers, its quarterly payroll will total some $12,000. Pay is figured on the basis of base pay at the time of discharge or according to the rank held in the unit. One day's wage is received for every authorized drill period attended. In the case of the Bay St. Louis unit four drill periods per month are authorized. Drill periods include training films, some close order drills, and instructions on amphibious operations.

All men, ages 17 to 44, in good physical condition are eligible for membership in the Army reserve. For veterans, all that is required to enlist is a copy of your discharge. For civilians, regular Army enlistment forms must be filled out. The enlistee will be sent to Gulfport for a physical examination before being accepted into the unit. Veterans enter the unit with the rank held at the time of discharge. All enlistees in the Army reserve must sign for a three-year period, but any reservist may be discharged, transferred to another unit or to another reserve status upon request.

Uniforms and equipment for Company B have been requisitioned but have not yet arrived here. Included in the order is an amphibious two and one half ton "Duck." This vehicle will be used in training the men in actual operation of amphibious equipment. The "Duck" will be delivered sometime this month.

Meetings are held every Thursday evening at the Woodmen of the World Hall on South Second St.

Rosemary Holderith Becomes Bride Of G. L. Evans In Methodist Service

Miss Rosemary Cecelia Holderith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kirchberg, Holderith of Waveland, and Mr. Gerald Lemar Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Evans of Pittard, N. Y., were married Saturday, July 30 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon at a double ring ceremony in the Main Street Methodist church, Rev. H. Bufkin Oliver officiating.

With a background of potted palms and ferns the chancel was decorated with tall floor baskets filled with white gladiolus and seven branched candelabra reached across the chancel.

Mrs. J. Briscoe Goldman, organist played a musical prelude and immediately preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. John R. Rollins sang "Because" and "At Dawning."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding dress of white organza over taffeta fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with an all over lace flounce across the front and down both sides of the back panel. The finger tip veil of illusion was held to her head with a "Tudor" comb made of the same lace as the flounce on the skirt and trimmed with lines of the veil. She carried a bouquet of Des Fleurs D'Amour centered with a white orchid. The only ornament worn by the bride was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

She had as her maid of honor, her cousin, Miss Gay Holderith of New Orleans, who wore a yellow organza dress made over taffeta. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with points in the back which formed a bustle. She wore on her head a wreath of Des Fleurs D'Amour tinted blue and her bouquet was made like a basket filled with sprays of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Irma Moran and Miss Mary Blakeman Smith of Midnight, Miss. They were dressed the same as the maid of honor and carried the same bouquets.

Mr. Evans had as his best man, Ralph Holderith Grunewald of Tallahassee, Fla. and as his groomsmen, Frank J. Grunewald, Jr. also of Tallahassee, and Lloyd F. Moppert of New Orleans. All were cousins of the bride. The ushers were her uncle Earl M. Holderith and cousin Eugene M. Moppert, both of New Orleans.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Hotel Reed, where Mrs. Holderith was receiving with the bride party. She wore a rose sheer dress trimmed with lace and a large white Milan hat. Her corsage was white carnations. Also in the receiving line was Mrs. Gerald Fisher of Churchville, New York, sister of the groom, who wore a blue taffeta dress and a small hat of the same color trimmed with pink roses. Her corsage was pink carnations.

White gladiolus decorated the reception rooms. Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois presided at the cake table which was covered with a cut work linen cloth, centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Earl M. Holderith of New Orleans, aunt of the bride presided at the punch bowl. Miss Louise Wilson was in charge of the guest book. The tea girls, who wore floor length gossamer dresses were Misses Beverly Faure, Susan Smith, Nannette Arce-neaux, Joy Starita, Patsy Gex, Janet Luce and Jo Ann Martinolich. They wore wrist corsages of daisies in the pastel shades.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Pensacola, Fla. For traveling the bride wore a light blue dress with a white hat and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Upon their return they spent several days with the bride's parents and then left by plane for Hopeville, Ga., where they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of Mississippi State College for Women with a B. S. degree in home economics. The groom is a graduate of Burgard school in Buffalo, N. Y., where he received technical training in aeronautics. During World War II, he served with the Army Air Forces.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Gerard Fisher of Churchville, N. Y.; Mr. Daniel X. Holderith of New Orleans, grandfather of the bride; Mrs. W. J.
